Along its more than a 100 kilometres long course, the Cetina River has something to offer to all. If you are a real sports enthusiast than you won't skip zip-line riding, canyoning, kayaking or rafting.

The entire course of Cetina River is full of numerous medieval fortresses, which remind one of the turbulent history of this region.

Further south lies natural park Biokovo, named after Biokovo Mountain. Numerous lookout points, hiking trails, educational trails, a botanical garden and other presentation and information centres are a party of the natural park's offer.

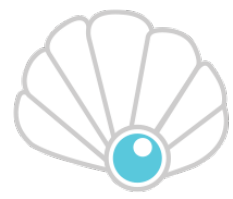

The beautiful Makarska Riviera stretches 60 km alongside the Adriatic coast. With more than 2750 sunny days each year and long pebble beaches it is a perfect summer destination.

If you are into discovering beautiful beaches, then we recommend you visit Brela town, which is a part of Makarska Riviera.

Here you will find an amazing combination of mountains and sea, and the longest and whitest pebble beaches on the Adriatic Sea.

Punta Rata, Soline and Stomarice beaches with thick pine forests will leave you breathless and make you definitely fall in love.
